Purpose

This guideline applies to entities in the NSW and ACT Synod of The Uniting Church in Australia. In particular, it is for Ministers, Ministry of Pastor, Lay Leaders, Employees, Volunteers and Members of the Council in Lugar Brae Uniting Church.

Background

1. A Working with Children Check is mandatory for any individual in NSW involved in child-related work. The Working with Children Check incorporates a National Police Check.
2. Child-related work is work in a child-related sector where the person has direct contact with a child or children, and that contact is a usual part of and more than incidental to the work.
3. Direct contact includes physical contact or face-to-face contact with children. Child-related work also includes child-related roles specified in the legislation.
4. All Uniting Church organisations fall within the scope of a child-related sector; however, some entities, or some workers may not engage in child related work. In some cases, therefore, a WWCC may not be required.
5. Holders of a WWCC (employed and volunteer) are likely to be Mandatory Reporters and are employees for the purposes of the Reportable Conduct Scheme so it is important that all holders of WWCC understand their responsibilities under both pieces of legislation. Please refer to the Mandatory Reporting and Reportable Conduct Guidelines for Lugar Brae Uniting Church, located on the Lugar Brae Uniting Church website.

Required Training

It is important that all holders of WWCC complete Safe Church Awareness training every three years and that a register of training is held with the WWCC register by the Safe Church Liaison person. Safe Church Awareness training is designed to equip those who work with children with the knowledge they require to undertake their roles safely.

WWCC Summary of Requirements

- Individuals seeking to engage in child-related work must provide a WWCC number issued by the NSW Office of the Children's Guardian to Lugar Brae Uniting Church before they can be permitted to engage in such work; and
- Lugar Brae Uniting Church is registered online, it is mandatory to verify every individual's clearance number online with the NSW Office of the Children's Guardian before permitting an individual to engage in child-related work. Accurate records must be kept and clearances rechecked when they are due.
- Any WWCC holder who cannot obtain a working with children clearance in the first instance; and/or their clearance subsequently revoked and/or a bar or limitation placed upon their capacity to work with children by the NSW Office of the Children's Guardian, must notify Lugar Brae Uniting Church, the council must immediately report it to the Safe Church Unit at: safechurch@nswact.uca.org.au

Responsibilities for WWCC

WWCC is to be managed as part of the recruitment and management of staff;

- When a role is created or advertised, the necessity for a WWCC is to be considered and included in the job description
- Before a person starts a child-related role whether paid or on a volunteer basis, they must provide the appropriate WWCC number and their date of birth (for verification purposes)
- A register should be kept showing the WWCC clearance number and expiry date
- All relevant employees (including volunteers) are responsible for keeping their WWCC current, and providing this information to the appropriate person
- All employees (including volunteers) who are required to hold a WWCC must immediately inform the appropriate person if their WWCC status changes.

Who needs a Working with Children Check?

The Office of the Children's Guardian defines child-related work (including voluntary work) as:

- providing services for children under 18 and you are over the age of 18
- where the work normally involves being face to face with children
- where contact with children is more than incidental to the work.

A Working with Children Check is required by all ordained ministers or individuals engaged as religious leaders or spiritual officers who must undergo a Working with Children Check regardless of whether they engage in face-to-face contact with children.

Examples of those who need a valid WWCC in the context of Lugar Brae Uniting Church:

- Ordained ministers
- SRE Teachers
- Ministry of Pastor roles
- Chaplains
- Child-care workers
- Lay church leaders (see definition in table below)
- Any employed person or volunteer who contributes to any program involving children.

Who does NOT require a Working with Children's Check?

- People under 18 years of age
- People whose work occasionally includes helping out with children as an incidental part of their role

See table below for further examples.

If you are unclear about whether a Working with Children Check is required, refer to the Office of the Children's Guardian website.

Or contact the Synod of NSW and the ACT Safe Church Unit – safechurch@nswact.uca.org.au

Summary of WWCC Process

1. Identify everyone within Lugar Brae Uniting Church who requires a WWCC.
2. Everyone who requires a WWCC must apply online at Service NSW and follow the instructions to have their identification documents verified in person at Service NSW.
3. Obtain WWCC numbers from each person who requires a WWCC and ensure they have clearance. No person is able to work with children until their WWCC is granted. If a WWCC is refused, then they are unable to work with children and the Safe Church Unit must be notified immediately so appropriate actions can take place under the Persons of Concern Policy.

4. Verify each person online with Service NSW so they are linked to the organisation.
5. Maintain a WWCC register showing the details of each holder of a WWCC.
6. Ensure that all holders of WWCC renew before their WWCC expires (every 5 years).

What are the potential statuses of a WWCC application and what is required?

The different outcomes and statuses of WWCC's are outlined below. It is important that the Safe Church Liaison person and Church Council understand and act upon each status as indicated.
